"Sing and Play Along"

instrumentalists join singers in the National Curriculum

PIANO ACCOMPANIMENT

Kerry Milan

Introduction

"Sing and Play Along" is a collection of songs, all of which are included in Staffordshire's Everyone Sing National Curriculum list. They are drawn from its recommendations from Y3 upwards and include English, Scottish, Welsh and Irish tunes, songs from Europe, America and the Caribbean, 'folk and pop' music, and classical favourites by Handel, Schumann and Brahms.

In addition four of the pentatonic melodies (Turn the Glasses Over, The Riddle Song, Ye Banks and Braes, and Soldier Soldier) have been given fully pentatonic accompaniments to help with project work.

Apart from the Schumann and Handel, all the piano parts are new arrangements, specially written to be comfortable for non-specialists. And since they are intended as accompaniments to class singing the piano part always includes the melody line, which may be reduced as necessary when accompanying instrumentalists. In this edition parts may be freely copied and used educationally by all schools working with Staffordshire County Music Service.

The percussion parts aim to be imaginative and attractive; but generally have fairly simple repeated patterns. The untuned percussion will hopefully prove appropriate and fun, with plenty of variety, and the chance occasionally to use the cow-bell, guiro and vibra-slap.

The tuned percussion parts are specifically for these arrangements; though where other school collections use the same key they will usually fit. There is one open-string plucked cello part included which can be replaced by low-pitched percussion instruments. Generally, use tuned percussion as available. On the accompanying recording, for example, an alto glockenspiel is sometimes used, though it is not specifically listed.

The melodies are doubled by a variety of instruments now to be found in primary and secondary schools - descant and tenor recorders, violin, flute, clarinet and oboe - while the accompaniments also employ a variety of instruments (piano, harp, honky tonk piano and accordion) .

To hear the music, switch to the percussion book, where the individual percussion parts can also be listened to separately.

In addition to a combined words-music vocal part, the following melody parts are currently available: violin/recorder, viola, cello, flute, B flat clarinet, alto saxophone and trumpet. It should always be understood that what may be a convenient key for one instrument may be very demanding on another.

Heel for heel and toe for toe,
Arm in arm and row on row,
All for Mairi's wedding.*

- 1 Over hillways up and down,
Myrtle green and bracken brown,
Past the shielings, thro' the town,
All for sake o' Mairi.

Step we gaily...

- 2 Red her cheeks as rowans are,
Bright her eye as any star,
Fairest o' them all by far,
Is our darling Mairi.

Step we gaily...

- 3 Plenty herring, plenty meal,
Plenty peat to fill her creel,
Plenty bonny bairns as weel,
That's the toast for Mairi.

Step we gaily...

Turn the Glasses Over

I've been to Harlem, I've been to Dover,
I've travelled this wide world all over,
Over, over, three times over,
Drink what you have to drink and turn the glasses over.
Sailing east, sailing west,
Sailing over the ocean,
Better watch out when the boat begins to rock,
Or you'll lose your girl in the ocean.

I gave my love a chicken that has no bone,
I gave my love a ring that has no end,
I gave my love a baby that's no cryen.

A chicken when it's pipping, it has no bone.
A ring when it's rolling, it has no end.

That saved a wretch like me.
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.
- 2 'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved.
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed!
- 3 Through many dangers, toils and snares,
We have already come.
'Twas grace that brought us safe thus far,
And grace will lead us home.
- 4 When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright shining as the sun,
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Than when we first begun.

My Grandfather's Clock

My grandfather's clock was too large for the shelf,
So it stood ninety years on the floor.
It was taller by half than the old man himself,
Though it weighed not a pennyweight more.
It was bought on the morn of the day that he was born,
And was always his treasure and pride -

*But it stopped, short, never to go again,
When the old man died.
Ninety years without slumbering,
Tick, tock, tick, tock,
His life seconds numbering,
Tick, tock, tick, tock.
It stopped short, never to go again,
When the old man died.*

In watching its pendulum swing to and fro,
Many hours he spent while a boy;
And in childhood and manhood, the clock seemed to know
And to share both his grief and his joy;
For it struck twenty four when he entered at the door
With a blooming and beautiful bride - chorus

It rang an alarm in the dead of the night,
An alarm that for years had been dumb;
And we knew that his spirit was pluming for flight,
That his hour of departure had come.
Still the clock kept the time, with a soft and muffled chime,
As we silently stood by its side - chorus

Ye Banks and Braes

- 1 Ye banks and braes o' bonnie Doon,
How can ye bloom sae fresh and fair?
How can ye chant, ye little birds,
And I sae weary, fu' o' care?
Thou'll break my heart, thou warbling bird,
That wantons through the flow'ring thorn,
Thou minds me o' departed joys,
Departed never to return.

- 2 Oft hae I roved by bonnie Doon,
To see the rose and woodbine twine,
And ilka bird sang o' its love,
And fondly sae did I o' mine.
Wi' lightsome heart I pu'd a rose,
Fu' sweet upon its thorny tree,
And my false lover stole my rose,
But ah! he left the thorn wi' me.

The Ash Grove

- 1 Down yonder green valley where streamlets meander,
When twilight is fading, I pensively rove:
Or at the bright noontide, in solitude wander
Amid the dark shades of the lonely Ash Grove.
'Twas there, while the blackbird was cheerfully singing,
I first met that dear one, the joy of my heart!
Around us for gladness the bluebells were ringing;
Ah! then little thought I how soon we should part.

- 2 Still glows the bright sunshine o'er valley and mountain,
Still warbles the blackbird its notes from the tree;
Still trembles the moonbeam on streamlet and fountain,
But what are the beauties of nature to me?
With sorrow, deep sorrow, my bosom is laden,
All day I go mourning in search of my love;
Ye echoes! oh tell me, where is the sweet maiden?

Ho-le-rah-hi-hi-ah, Ho-le-rah ku-kuck,
Ho-le-rah-hi-hi-ah, Ho-le-rah ku-kuck,
Ho-le-rah-hi-hi-ah, Ho. →
- 2 After Easter come sunny days
 That will melt all the snow;
 Then I'll marry my maiden fair: we'll be happy, I know.
chorus →
- 3 When I've married my maiden fair
 What then can I desire?
 Oh, a home for her tending and some wood for the fire.
chorus

Baby Sardine

A budgerigar saw his first motor car,
 Was afraid and ruffed up his feathers.
 "Now steady my lad", said his wily old dad,
 "It's only a cage full of fellas!"

| 1 | Old Rodger is dead and laid in his grave,
Laid in his grave, laid in his grave,
Old Rodger is dead and laid in his grave,
Heigh-ho! laid in his grave. | 3 | The apples grew ripe and down they did fall ... |
| 2 | They planted an apple tree over his head,
Over his head, over his head,
They planted an apple tree over his head,
Heigh-ho! over his head. | 4 | There was an old woman came picking them up ... |
| | | 5 | Old Rodger got up and gave her a knock ... |
| | | 6 | That made her go off with a skip and a hop,,, |

Soldier, Soldier, Won't You Marry Me?

| 1 | "Soldier, soldier, won't you marry me,
With your musket, fife and drum?"
"How can I marry such a pretty girl as you,
When I've got no shoes to put on?"
Off to the Cobblers she did go,
As fast as she could run,
Brought him back the finest that there was,
And the soldier put them on. | 3 | "Soldier, soldier, won't you marry me,
With your musket, fife and drum?"
"How can I marry such a pretty girl as you,
When I've got no pants to put on?"
Off to the Tailors she did go,
As fast as she could run,
Brought him back the finest that there was,
And the soldier put them on. |

Andulko (Little Angel)

- | | | | |
|---|--|---|--|
| 1 | Andulko, are you asleep, I pray?
The time is so late.
All of your geese have made off, and stray
Beyond the far gate.
Fields of corn, geese now shake,
Bring them back, ere day break.
Andulko, angel, be on your way.
How long it will take! | 2 | I'd call to summon them; but I dread
My lady would hear;
She would awake at my softest tread
And scold me I fear.
Oh, the fuss she would make,
What a blow I could take;
I'll watch the sun rise from my small bed,
It's safer in here. |

Paul's Little Hen

Paul's little hen flew away from the farmyard,
Ran down the hillside and into the dale.
Paul hurried after, but down in the brambles
There sat a fox with a great bushy tail.
"Cluck, cluck cluck," cried the poor little creature,
"Cluck, cluck cluck," but she cried in vain.
Paul made a spring, but he could not save her;
"Now I shall never dare go home again".

The Soldier's Song - Schumann

A fine wooden sword that's trusty and broad,
And a grey dappled steed - What more could I need?
A soldier am I, the foe I defy
As I ride up the lane, and down it again.
I march out of doors to go to the wars,
Then back with my gun for dinner at one.
From morning to night, I march and I fight.
When the enemy's fled we cry: "Home to bed".

Silent Worship

Introduction

The melody is composed of eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together, with some notes marked with accents. The bass clef part provides a steady accompaniment of quarter notes. The melody continues with similar rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes with accents. The bass line remains consistent with quarter notes.

The second system continues the piece, maintaining the melodic and harmonic structure. The treble clef part features more complex rhythmic figures, while the bass clef part continues with a steady accompaniment. The piece concludes with a double bar line and the word "Fine" written above the staff.

The third system continues the piece, ending with a double bar line and the word "Dal" (Da Capo) followed by a repeat sign, indicating that the first system should be repeated.

Silent Worship

Did you not hear my lady
 Go down the garden singing?
 Blackbird and thrush were silent
 To hear the alleys ringing.
 O saw you not my lady out in the garden there,
 Shaming the rose and lily for she is twice as fair.
 Though I am nothing to her,
 Though she must rarely look at me,
 And though I could never woo her,
 I love her till I die.
 Surely you heard my lady
 Go down the garden singing,
 Silencing all the songbirds
 And setting the alleys ringing.
 But surely you see my lady out in the garden there,
 Riv'ling the glitt'ring sunshine with a glory of golden hair.

Blow the Wind Southerly

*Blow the wind southerly, southerly, southerly,
 Blow the wind south o'er the bonny blue sea.
 Blow the wind southerly, southerly, southerly,
 Blow bonny breeze my lover to me:*

1 They told me last night there were ships in the offing,
 And I hurried down to the deep rolling sea,
 But my eye could not see it wherever might be it,
 The barque that is bearing my lover to me.

chorus
 2 Oh, is it not sweet to hear the breeze singing,
 As lightly it comes o'er the deep rolling sea?
 But sweeter and dearer by far when 'tis bringing
 The barque of my true love in safety to me.
